Skydive Dubai also has a second dropzone, Desert Campus, located off the Dubai - Al Ain road (E66) near Margham, which is 35 km away from the heart of Dubai and approximately an hour and a half drive from Dubai International Airport (DXB). Starting out with just a runway in 2010, the Desert Campus has transformed over the years into a modern skydiving dropzone where people enjoy tandem skydives, learn to skydive solo, just skydive for fun and receive top level coaching (individuals, teams and pros) for any discipline in the sport. The Desert Campus swoop pond allows for training over the water in either direction and boasts a new building devoted to team training. Athletes from all over the world travel to the Desert Campus dropzone to train with our staff. 7 ● BURJ AL ARAB 140 KM TO FINISH LINE
Burj Al Arab, at 321m (1,053ft) is the fourth tallest hotel in the world and one of Dubai’s most famous landmarks. Opened in December 1999, the luxury hotel stands on an artificial island and its shape mimics the sail of a ship. To advertise the local Dubai Duty Free Men’s Open, the hotel used to convert its helipad into a green-roofed tennis court situated 211m high on a surface area of 415m². The iconic first exhibition was a friendly match between Roger Federer and Andre Agassi in 2005.

8 ● KITE BEACH 140 KM TO FINISH LINE
Kite Beach is Dubai’s favourite community beach – a picture-postcard destination and a perfect place for the adventurous and playful, just fifteen minutes from Downtown Dubai. There’s plenty to do on this half-kilometre stretch of white sands, where crashing blue waves popular with kite surfers earned the beach its name. There are water sports activities; beach racket sports, fitness and yoga classes, obstacle courses, trampolines, and over 30 fun and quirky cafes – not to mention options to shop and play. Kite Beach is also a special place on New Year’s Eve, where revellers gather to watch the fireworks and celebrate beneath the stars.

9 ● AL MARMOOM RESERVE 100 KM TO FINISH LINE
Spanning 10% of Dubai’s total area is the Al Marmoom Desert Conservation Reserve project, the largest unfenced nature reserve in the UAE. The reserve – which is open to the public – is also home to the region’s largest renewable energy project, the Mohammed Bin Rashid Solar Park. Known for its admirable sustainability initiatives, the reserve is abundant with native wildlife. It hosts one of the largest populations of Arabian oryx in Dubai and the highest concentration of large flamingos in the UAE. It also provides shelter to many other endangered species that have been successfully relocated to the area. Enjoying over 40 hectares of shrub land and fertile area, the reserve is home to over 204 species of native birds, 158 species of migratory birds, and over 10km of lakes, encompassing the Al Qudra Lakes. Additionally, a variety of reptile species can also be found across Al Marmoom’s different habitats. The 3,000 year old Saruq Al Hadid archaeological site – one of the oldest sites in the country that dates back to the Iron Age – is also located within the reserve, making it a popular cultural and historical attraction.

10 • AL QUDEA CYCLING TRACK  100 KM TO FINISH LINE

Al Qudra Cycling Track is a popular destination among Dubai’s adventure seekers. The track is 86 kilometres, boasting amazing views of the desert where riders may even catch a glimpse of some local wildlife like the oryx. The track is popular among both professional and novice riders alike, and is frequented by both solo and group riders. It’s utilised by weekly cycling clubs, world-class athletes, and leisure riders visiting Dubai.

11 • LAST EXIT  100 KM TO FINISH LINE

Last Exit is a first-of-its-kind themed food truck concept offering a selection of fresh and tasty gourmet street food in a chilled, fun, and convenient atmosphere. Each location has its own unique theme created using upcycled materials, with entertainment for all ages to explore and discover, and a range of convenient services and amenities available 24/7. Last Exit currently includes four destinations – Last Exit E11 and Last Exit Mad X on Sheikh Zayed Road, Last Exit D63 in Al Qudra, and Last Exit D89 in Al Khawaneej – with plans to expand the concept across Dubai by 2018.

12 • AL MARMOOM LAKES  100 KM TO FINISH LINE

Located in the Seih Al Salam desert, next to the Dubai cycling track, Al Marmoom Lake is a man-made area of lakes, 10 hectares large, home to more than 130 species of exciting birds. Al Marmoom is part of a project to green and enrich that part of the desert of Dubai. Here you can find glossy ibis, caspian plover, sanderling, ruddy turnstone, gull-billed tern and migratory birds like Eurasian wryneck, rosy starling, common starling, shrikes, wheatears, eagles and falcons.
Dubai Creek is a saltwater creek, cutting through the heart of Dubai. The seawater Dubai Creek winds its way from the trading port on the Gulf to the Ras al Khor bird sanctuary on the desert edge of Dubai. In the past it was the centre of the shing and pearling industry, which formed the main sectors of the city’s economy. Nowadays the eastern and western banks are connected by one tunnel and four bridges, but the traditional form of transport on the creek, which is still available, were ferry boats.

Dubai Silicon Oasis is a globally recognized free zone and an integrated technology park that allows people to live, work, and play. Hosting modern technology based industries and an urban master-planned community in an iconic location, DSO offers state-of-the-art infrastructure and in-house business services.

Hatta Heritage Village is a reconstruction of a traditional mountain village located in Hatta, in the Al Hajar Mountains. The mosque and houses within Hatta Heritage Village were originally constructed from materials such as mud, palm tree trunks and fronds (barasti), of 30 buildings, many of which have interior furnishings typical of the UAE in the period prior to development in the 1960s onwards.

Hatta Hill Park, located on a high hill in Hatta area, was created to serve the residents of the surrounding area, by that, Dubai Municipality has made a quantum leap and added green and entertainment areas in the Emirate of Dubai. The mountainous natural green areas are used for picnics and family gatherings. The park has designated areas for barbecue, children’s play areas, walkways, shaded areas with wooden benches, workout devices and sports yards.

Hatta Mountain Bike Trail Centre, an initiative backed by Dubai Municipality, is a first MTB Centre in the Middle East, and is a home to multiple cross country route of various grades that cater to all levels of ability from absolute beginners to experienced riders. The Hatta Trails are free to ride and self-guided with clear markers and are open all year round. Brave visitors can choose to tackle the trails on their own or join the many hobby groups, some of which meet for weekly rides. Give yourself two-three hours for a riding session, with stops to enjoy the lush surroundings. Hatta is also the centre of a planned packed mountain biking calendar, with endurance challenges, professional races and amateur events. The current facilities include camping, picnic areas, Wadi pools, view point, playground, bathrooms/showers, and parking.

Is characterized by its position on a high hill in the old Fujairah region, and built up to about 20 meters above sea level, and overseas the whole city of Fujairah at this height and is three kilometers away from the coast.

The design of the Fujairah Fort differs completely from the usual engineering designs of the rest of the forts of the state. Existing buildings three circular towers and a forth square tower and a tall building with a section similar to the tower, these buildings are linked by a wall between the towers to from a central hall in the middle. This irregular design has emerged as one with several specifications, of the irregular shapes of the rocks upon which the fort was built.

The historic Qasr Al Muwaiji – birthplace of His Highness Sheikh Khalifa bin Zayed Al Nahyan, President of the UAE – has been restored to its former glory and reopened to the public as a museum and permanent exhibition. Located in the centre of Al Ain city, Qasr al Muwaiji is an impressive structure that has watched over the oasis for more than 100 years. Built in the early 20th century, this simple but striking building was originally used as a diwan (a council or seat of governance) and as a place for the community to congregate. Here you can find glossy ibis, caspian plover, sanderling, ruddy turnstone, gull-billed tern and migratory birds like Eurasian wryneck, rosy starling, common starling, shrikes, wheatears, eagles and falcons.

5 ● AL AIN OASIS 45 KM TO FINISH LINE
In the heart of the city, the Al Ain Oasis has been opened as the UAE’s first curated UNESCO World Heritage site visitor experience. Spread over 1,200 hectares (nearly 3,000 acres) and containing more than 147,000 date palms of up to 100 different varieties, this impressive oasis is filled with palm plantations, many of which are still working farms. The cool, shady walkways transport you from the heat and noise of the city to a tranquil haven; all you will hear is bird-song and the rustle of the palm fronds. The site introduces visitors to the delicate oasis eco-system and the importance it has played in the development of the emirate. The oasis landscape of Al Ain is shaped by a complex shared water supply based on both wells and ‘aflaj’, the UAE’s traditional irrigation system. Al Ain Oasis has plenty of working examples of the falaj which have been used for centuries to tap into underground wells.

6 ● AL AIN PALACE MUSEUM 45 KM TO FINISH LINE
Located on the western edge of Al Ain Oasis, the Palace of the late Sheikh Zayed bin Sultan Al Nahyan was built in 1937. It was converted into a museum in 1998 and opened to the public in 2001. The original structure comprised a private residence for the ruler and his family within a complex of courtyards. The architectural design and construction of Al Ain Palace is typical of historical buildings of the UAE. It features the characteristic ventilation structures that are designed to keep the buildings cool in the summer. Locally sourced and environmentally friendly building materials were used, including clay, adobe and plaster stones, as well as palm tree elements for roofing rooms, ceilings, doors and windows. The use of teak was later introduced in the renovation of the buildings.

7 ● AL JAHILI FORT 45 KM TO FINISH LINE
Al Jahili Fort is one of the UAE’s most historic buildings. It was erected in 1891 to defend the city and protect precious palm groves. The former headquarters of the Oman Trucial Scouts, the force that protected the mountain passes and kept inter-tribal peace, it also served as a residence for the local governor. It is set in beautifully landscaped gardens, and visitors are encouraged to explore it.
Dating back to the mid-20th century and founded by the late Sheikh Shakhbut bin Sultan Al Nahyan on the palm-lined road linking Al Ain’s Al Qattara and Al Jimi oases, the historic Souq Al Qattara has been renovated and re-opened. A traditional handicrafts market takes place here every Thursday, Friday and Saturday from October to May, encouraging local families to preserve and promote Abu Dhabi’s heritage through an active involvement in traditional craft production. The Souq is linked to the redeveloped Al Qattara Fort, now home to a popular arts center, featuring hundreds of modern exhibits, workshops, a café and a library.

This 900 hectare park near the base of Jebel Hafeet is where visitors can see a large animal collection in enclosures that closely resemble their natural habitats. There are plenty of green public spaces for picnics and also playgrounds, a cafeteria and a train tour of the wildlife area. The Al Ain Zoo is home to over 4,000 animals, with at least 30% of its 180 species considered endangered. Conservation efforts have been strengthened by partnerships with San Diego Zoo, the Fairchild Tropical Botanical Garden in Miami, and the World Association of Zoos & Aquariums.

Moreover, the zoo also is home to the Sheikh Zayed Desert Learning Centre, an important educational facility that combines knowledge and learning through interactive exhibits, multimedia and visual materials that have been specially designed by world-class experts and specialists.

Strategically located at the feet of the Jebel Hafeet Mountains, Green Mubazzarah is home to a number of spending Chalets that make a great retreat away from the clamour of the metropolis providing guests with a deluxe lodging and intimate access to the great outdoors.

11 • JEBEL HAFEET

This towering rocky mountain, which stands guard over Al Ain and borders Oman, is forged out of craggy limestone that has been weathered over millions of years. Significant fossil discoveries have been made in the area, which are vital pieces in the jigsaw on the city’s ancient history. Over 500 ancient burial tombs dating back 5,000 years have been found in the Jebel Hafeet foothills. Once you reach the top, you’ll be rewarded with magnificent views over Al Ain.

Located on the western edge of Al Ain Oasis, the Palace of the late Sheikh Zayed bin Sultan Al Nahyan was built in 1937. It was converted into a museum in 1998 and opened to the public in 2001. The original structure comprised a private residence for the ruler and his family within a complex of courtyards. The architectural design and construction of Al Ain Palace is typical of historical buildings of the UAE. It features the characteristic ventilation structures that are designed to keep the buildings cool in the summer. Locally sourced and environmentally friendly building materials were used, including clay, adobe and plaster stones, as well as palm tree elements for roofing rooms, ceilings, doors and windows. The use of teak was later introduced in the renovation of the buildings.

Al Jahili Fort is one of the UAE’s most historic buildings. It was erected in 1891 to defend the city and protect precious palm groves. The former headquarters of the Oman Trucial Scouts, the force that protected the mountain passes and kept inter-tribal peace, it also served as a residence for the local governor. It is set in beautifully landscaped gardens, and visitors are encouraged to explore it.

The Sheikh Khalifa Bin Zayed Al Nahyan Mosque also known as Al Ain Grand Mosque will be able to accommodate more than 20,000 worshipers. It is composed of a basement level and a ground floor only, and will also include a 160-meter wide dome that will cover the main prayer hall and four 60-meter tall minarets. The complex also includes other buildings for ablution, classrooms, and offices, as well as underground parking.
